Starts Monday, April 15th from 1-2pm
for individuals living with cancer

Whether you "want to get back some power post-radiation" or you "want to kick cancer to the curb" Horses for Healing can help put you in the right mindset to get results.

Time spent bonding with horses and others with similar challenges can be a wonderful way to bring you joy, helping you to relax, and feel less stressed. Riding provides physical and emotional benefits by learning new skills and interacting with horses, peers, and volunteers. During six weekly lessons, you will work to improve your strength and stability - "positively impacting your daily life".
